Removers

Brush Cleaner

Features:

Brush Cleaner cleans and restores dirty and hardened brushes and rollers to "Like-New" condition. The strong, fast-acting cleaner removes latex- and oil-base paint, shellac, lacquer, varnish, stain, polyurethane and other synthetic finishes from natural and synthetic brushes. The water soluble formula is great for brushes that have not been properly cleaned and cared for.

How to Use:

- Step 1: Immediately after painting, soak brushes and rollers in container filled with Brush Cleaner. Allow hardened brushes to soak 2 to 6 hours or overnight until dried paint is softened.
- Step 2: Separate bristles with knife or wire brush, and work hardened brush against bottom of container to soften paint in the heel.
- Step 3: Rinse in fresh Brush cleaner, and if necessary, rinse in water. Shake brush and dry with clean cloth. Hang to dry.

Specific Gravity (water = 1) : 0.908

- Step 1: Apply with a brush and wait 20 -30 minutes.
- Step 2: Remove with steel wool or scraper.
- Step 3: Wash surface with PARKS Stripper Wash or denatured alcohol.

Features:

Power Stripper quickly tackles the toughest paint and finish removal projects without damaging the wood. The fast acting, nonflammable stripper removes up to four layers of paint, varnish, lacquer or polyurethane in just one application. Plus, the strong, semi-paste formula clings to all surfaces - even rounded and vertical surfaces - for easy removal without the mess associated with applying a liquid stripper.

How to Use:

- Step 1: Apply using an inexpensive natural bristle brush.
- Step 2: Wait 10-15 minutes and remove with putty knife or scraper.
- Step 3: Wash surface with PARKS Stripper Wash or denatured alcohol.

Solvents

Acetone

The strongest, fastest evaporating solvent.

Thinning: A specialty solvent. Use only where directed. Generally for epoxies, fiberglass resins and specialty coatings. Acetone is too strong to use in thinning most coatings.

Cleaning: Use to clean painting tools after applying any type of coating. Will soften hardened coating with overnight immersion.

Caution: Will soften most synthetic materials. General: The extreme strength limits thinning uses to specialty coatings. The high evaporation rate also means it is very flammable.

Denatured Alcohol

The safest, purest grade of denatured ethyl alcohol.

Thinning: Alcohol is used to thin shellac based products only. Use with clear or orange shellac or pigmented shellac primers. Do not use with other finishes.

Cleaning: A specialty cleaner. Use to clean painting tools after using shellac. Will soften dry or hard shellac. Can dissolve most inks, lipsticks, crayons and many other stains. General: This is the best grade of fuel for alcohol chafing dishes and stoves. Complete combustion produces no harmful gases or vapor. Alcohol is soluble in water and can be used as an anti-freeze agent. However, it evaporates rapidly and is flammable. Read cautions on the container before using.

Lacquer Thinner

A thinner for one part epoxies and lacquer wood finishes.

Thinning: This is a specialized thinner. Use to thin epoxy or two part coatings. Consult coating manufacturers specifications. Use to thin nitrocellulose based wood lacquers. Do not use with acrylic lacquers, automotive lacquers, varnishes, shellac, polyurethanes or paints.

Cleaning: Clean painting tools after painting. Will soften most types of coatings with overnight immersion in Lacquer Thinner. Will attack some synthetic brushes. The favorite for cutting grease on metal parts, etc. Prolonged exposure can attack seals and gaskets. Much stronger than Paint Thinner and more flammable.

Can Sizes : 5-Gallon, Gallon, Quart

MEK

The high strength solvent with a moderate evaporation rate. Thinning: A specialty solvent. Use only where directed. Generally for epoxies, fiberglass resins and specialty coatings. Cleaning: Use to clean painting tools after applying any type of coating. Will soften hardened coating with overnight immersion. Caution: Will soften most synthetic materials. General: This is a solvent with a strength equal to Acetone but with a slower evaporation rate. It is flammable. Read cautions on the label carefully.

Paint Thinner

The best accepted, most economical, general purpose solvent. Thinning: A general purpose solvent. Use with most oil based paints, varnishes, stains, polyurethanes and wiping oil finishes. Do not use with shellac, lacquers or latex paints. Helps increase flow and reduce brush drag or pull. Extends drying time slightly. Aids leveling. Cleaning: A mild solvent. Use to clean painting tools while coating is still wet. Will not soften dry paint well.
