The fabric in KREW® 600 Heavy Duty Shop Towels may ignite and melt at temperatures higher than 300°F/150°C. Melting fabric can cause severe burns. Do not use near flame or other ignition sources. Ensure equipment is properly grounded before use.

The fabric in KREW®1300 garments resists penetration from many aqueous fluids and is an effective barrier against many particles. Do not use for protection against hazardous chemical vapors or gases. Kimberly-Clark makes no warranty with respect to the suitability of garments or fabric for specific applications. We recommend that the end-user determine such suitability for any specific use.

Dispose of all products in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.
